

Building Newsflash

AMENDMENT OF THE SUITE OF IDAS APPLICATION FORMS

Purpose

To advise the suite of IDAS Development Application Forms has been amended.

Information

The Integrated Development Assessment System (IDAS) forms used for building development applications have been amended

The amendments were necessary to facilitate the commencement of the Smart eDA: IDAS Application Forms 'Wizard', which will be available from October 2007. The content of the forms has not changed significantly. However, to take advantage of the technical capabilities of the 'Wizard', it was necessary to revise the format and logic of the static, paper-based versions of the forms.

To enable the development industry to adjust to the suite of amended IDAS forms, a 3 months transition period from Monday 3 September 2007 to Friday 30 November 2007 has been set. During this period applicants may lodge the new amended forms but they may alternatively continue to lodge the previous version.

From Monday 3 December 2007, the previous versions of the forms will expire. Assessment managers must then only accept the new approved forms for IDAS.

Contact Details

For more information about Smart eDA go to www.smarteda.qld.gov.au.

DISCLAIMER: The information contained in this Newsflash is provided by the State of Queensland in good faith. The material is general in nature and before relying on the material in any important matter, users should carefully evaluate its accuracy, currency, completeness and relevance for their purpose. It is not intended as a substitute for consulting the relevant legislation or for obtaining appropriate professional advice relevant to your particular circumstances. The State of Queensland cannot accept responsibility or liability for any loss, damage, cost or expense you might incur as a result of the use of or reliance on information contained in this Newsflash. It is not intended to be, and should not be relied upon as the ultimate and/or complete source of information.