Application for renewal of accreditation of a residential service

Residential Services (Accreditation) Act 2002

This form is effective from 3 September 2018

ABN: 86 504 771 740

Instructions

An application for renewal of accreditation accompanied by all required documents, must be lodged by the service provider before the current accreditation expires. It should not be made more than three months before the date of expiry. Under the Act, failure to lodge the application by the day before the accreditation expires will result in the automatic cancellation of the service's registration. Severe penalties apply for operating an unregistered service.

If there are extenuating circumstances which make it unlikely you will be able to lodge the renewal application in time, you will need to lodge a request with Regulatory Services to extend the due date for lodgement. As the decision to extend this date must be made before accreditation expires, the request will need to be made at least 7 days before the expiry.

Self-assessment

Before lodging this application, you should review the accreditation report provided to you as part of your most recent accreditation process and list the actions you have taken to address suggested areas for improvement since the last accreditation. The list should accompany your application for renewal of accreditation.

A copy of the accreditation report can be obtained from the Regulatory Services either by calling 07 3008 3450 or emailing regulatoryservices@chde.qld.gov.au.

Assessment of a residential service

Renewal of accreditation will require a reassessment of the residential service.

Your application must include:

1. An assessment of the residential service building's safety and amenities by local government including:
 - a building compliance notice, issued within the previous 12 months, in relation to MP 5.7—Residential Services Building Standard of the Queensland Development Code.
 - notification of compliance with MP 2.1—Fire Safety in Budget Accommodation Buildings of that Code if accommodating six or more residents.
 - a copy of an up to date fire safety management plan, including fire evacuation and fire training records.

The building compliance notice is issued by local government and notification of compliance with MP 2.1 may be obtained by contacting either the Queensland Fire and Emergency Services or your local council.

2. Any new policies and procedures which you have amended since the accreditation process.

Once the application and all relevant material is lodged this office will conduct an assessment of the service's written policies, procedures and forms. This will be conducted as an audit of available written materials and will establish the continued existence and adequacy of the documents required by the relevant accreditation standards.

An assessment at the residential service will occur to gauge the level of compliance with the accreditation standards. This will involve visiting the residential service to observe the provision of services, conduct discussions with the service provider, associate/s, relevant employees, staff, residents, residents' families or other representatives.
